

Join us at our Master in Urban Planning promotional table, where you can explore our program through engaging flyers and learn about exciting career opportunities. Participate in "Place It!", an interactive activity that invites you to build your ideal city using fun toys and objects, fostering creativity and community engagement. Connect with current students and faculty, and discover how you can shape the future of urban spaces!